T. J. TODD, City Marshal.

The ROUNDABOUT office was enlivened Christmas day by a bevy of beautiful young ladies.

There are still a few more of those fine cigars at Ben. Marshall's News Depot, "and don't you forget it."

Dr. Hatchitt advertises two two-horse wagons and a team of wagon horses and mules for sale in this issue.

Capt. Sanford Goin advertises accommodations for boarders during the session of the Legislature in another column.

A young lady of this county thinks the Legislature should enact a law compelling bachelors to marry or support all the "old maids."

One shoe-string, one cigar, and seven fire-crackers was the amount of presents received by us Christmas day, and still we were not happy.

Notice.

The Trustees of the public schools of Franklin county are requested to send in their reports by the first day of January in order that the teachers may draw their forty per cent.

Christmas Happenings.

A burning fire-cracker ignited the awning over Fuhs' confectionery Christmas night, but it was extinguished before much damage was done.

Some careless individual shot a bullet through Mrs. McDonald's show-window Wednesday night, which passed through the store, breaking a mirror in the back room.

Too much Christmas caused a six footer to run through a four-dollar window in D. L. Haly's bar-room. He shelled out the necessary lucre to replace it and went on his way rejoicing.

A disastrous fire came near being the result of setting fire to a pack of fire-crackers on St. Clair street, near Main, Christmas morning. One or more of the fire-crackers popped into the basement-room of Mr. Sol. Harris' clothing store and set fire to an awning that was rolled up in there. Smoke issuing from the windows caused an investigation, when the fire was discovered and speedily extinguished.

While the police were making some arrests Christmas day, it became necessary to use considerable force on account of the resistance offered, and during the excitement a pistol in the hands of Officer Lee was accidentally discharged, the ball striking William Griffy in the groin and making a dangerous wound. Griffy was a by-stander, taking no part in the affair, and Capt. Lee regrets the accident exceedingly.

A disturbance occurred on the corner of Lewis and Clinton streets, about one o'clock Thursday night, between some of the colored population, which resulted in Harry Mordecai receiving a flesh wound in the right thigh from a pistol in the hands of Dow Smith, and Dow Smith receiving six ugly cuts from a knife in the hands of Dick Higdon. Officers Long and Larkin made the necessary arrests, and Dr. Lampton Price dressed the wounds.
